Academic German Year

Are you planning to embark on a degree programme at the University of Passau but have only little or no knowledge of the German language? The Academic German Year (AGY) aims to provide international students with an affordable opportunity to learn German and fulfil the German language requirements in as little as one year.

The programme starts with level A1 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). Those completing the course will be given ample preparation to pass an official German language proficiency test, a prerequisite for foreign students wishing to enrol at a German tertiary education institution.

The Academic German Year consists of three modules:

Module I: Courses A1 and A2 (beginner's level)

Module II: Courses B1 and B2 (intermediate level)

Module III: Course C1 (advanced level) and preparatory course for an official German language proficiency test

Study German together with highly motivated international students! The course participants will take intensive German classes five days a week (24 teaching units, each unit lasting 45 minutes) and will be taught by experienced lecturers.

Overview

Course start: October (winter semester)

Course duration: 1 academic year

Number of places: 20 per course (maximum)

Programme fee: 3,490.00 euros

Get to know Germany

The course is rounded off by fun and exciting extracurricular activities, guided by tutors who are also available to help the course participants with any questions or problems that might arise.

Certificate

Every course level (A1 to C1) concludes with a final exam consisting of 4 parts: Listening, Reading, Writing and Speaking. All students who pass the exam will receive a German language certificate with an overall evaluation score in line with the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

The programme finishes with an official German language proficiency test, serving as evidence that you fulfill the language requirements for admission to a German University degree course.

How to apply?

When applying for the AGY programme, you must submit a motivation letter in which you explain your interest in studying for a degree at the University of Passau. Furthermore, you should provide supporting documents (your secondary school leaving certificate and certificates for all academic achievements gained after secondary school) to show that you fulfill all requirements for studying at a German University other than the German language skills.
